

GLEEFUL 2016 Call for Papers

The q Undergraduate Association for Linguistics at Michigan State University (qUALMS) is pleased to announce the sixth Great Lakes Expo for Experimental and Formal Undergraduate Linguistics (GLEEFUL). GLEEFUL aims to bring together undergraduate linguists from across the continent to present high quality, original research to their peers in order to gain experience and a greater appreciation for the many ways to study linguistics and language-related fields.

Additionally, qUALMS is pleased to announce the continuation of our workshop series for GLEEFUL. These workshops are aimed at undergraduates looking to improve their research skill set by exposing them to current techniques and ways to approach linguistic problems.

April 16-17, 2016 in East Lansing, Michigan.

Keynote Speaker: Charles Yang, University of Pennsylvania

Workshops

I

Computational Model Building for

Language Acquisition: An Introduction

Lisa Pearl

University of California, Irvine

II

Methods for Artificial Language Learning in the lab

Anne-Michelle Tessier

University of Alberta

More information is available on our conference website at: <https://sites.google.com/site/gleeful2016/>

We invite 1 page abstracts (500 words) for 10-15 minute presentations or posters from any area of linguistics. Abstract submission and registration will all be done electronically through the following website: <http://linguistlist.org/easyabs/gleeful2016> .

Deadline for submission of abstract: Monday February 8th, 2016

Abstracts will be reviewed, and participants will be notified a little over a week after the deadline. For further information, you can send an email to gleeful.2016@gmail.com, or check out the GLEEFUL website. Thank you!

Kyle Latack- President, qUALMS

GLEEFUL is thankful for support from The Office of the Provost (Undergraduate Education), the College of Arts and Letters, the Department of Linguistics and Germanic, Slavic, Asian, and African Languages, the Cognitive Science Program, the Michigan State Honors College, and the College of Arts and Letters Alumni Association.